Representing excellent value is this lovely family home. With fresh interiors and a welcoming ambience we suggest you be quick to inspect this one. It's cute and stylish with downlights throughout, floating timber floors and simply a lovely feel. With space for six cars off the street, this would also suit those in a trade who may need a little more space. Inside there are options to still add your own character and enjoy this peaceful location. It really does offer an appealing retreat for the young family starting out or those who may be downsizing but still in need of four good size bedrooms. Its brick, its solid and represents great value in the current market.
