Unassuming from the street, there is definitely more to this home than you'd expect. Offering light and airy interiors, this four-bedroom home does not lack in size or features. The main entry level of the home consists of; three living areas, three bathrooms (including two ensuites), built in robes to all, ducted air conditioning, six year old kitchen with stainless steel appliances, internal laundry and a host of extras. Downstairs there is a huge rumpus/games room with kitchenette that overlooks the stunning solar heated, salt water in-ground pool with plenty of areas for entertaining, there is also large under house storage and a fourth bathroom. A double garage, side access and bush outlook complete this surprise package.
