The tranquil settings of this great street gives no hint to how close to the centre of town you really are. You are a short walk to everything yet still have a peaceful serene place to call home. This solid cottage was built with high ceilings and graciously large rooms and is ready for rejuvenation, but perfectly livable for the meantime. There's a huge timber kitchen, air conditioning and side access to a large private yard and also offers a carport and lock up garage. If you're looking for a solid home in a quality street, look no further!
